Many students have the cell phones when they was young , and maybe some students usually like to bring their cell phones with them although they are in the school . Sometime , I see my classmates use their cellphones at school , even in the class . I feel jealous in a moment , cause I really want the cell phone . But I don't think the Elementary school students "have to" have the cell phone .

Maybe , the good thing for the students who use the cell phone is they can show off with their friend or chat with their Net friends . But the cell phone can even hurt himself . Some student always play the cell phone in class or at home , and that is very bad for them eyes . Another bad thing for student to use the cell phone is they would spend more time to use the cell phone than study , so they always get a really horrible score on their school test , and don't like to study anymore .

I think cell phone is good , but not for the student who just in Elementary school , it will just break their eyes and bad for their study , so I am disagree with the Elementary school students should use cell phone at school even they can have the cell phone .
