9-Year-Old Girl Building Small Shelters for the Homeless

When Hailey Fort was just 5 years old, she asked her mother if they could buy a homeless man a sandwich. After that, she kept giving lunch to a stranger in need for a year. And then, she began growing fresh food, like vegetables and fruit for the homeless people.

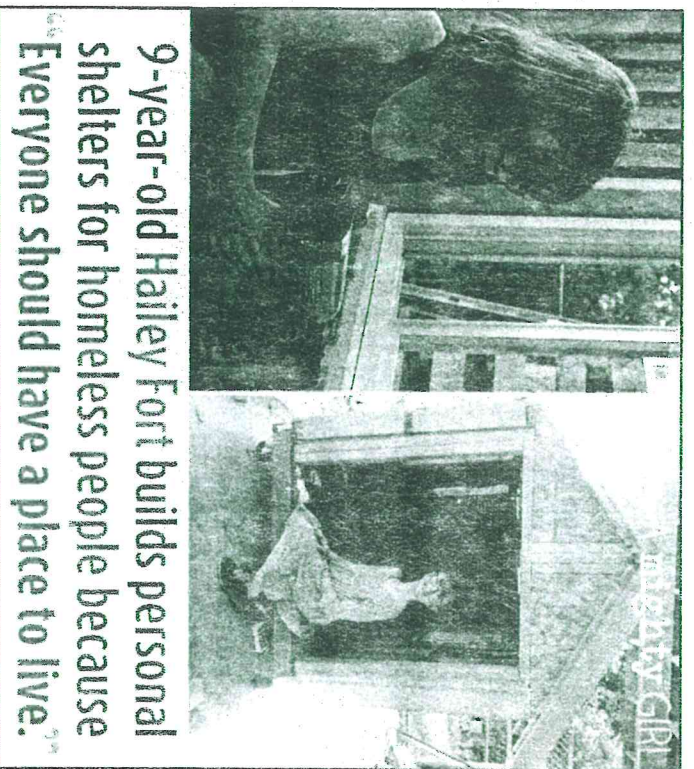

Now, at age 9, helping the homeless is an important mission for Hailey and she starts a new plan this year. She is building 12 mobile shelters for the homeless people in her community!

"I think everyone should have a place to live," she says. She hopes to provide safe and warm places to "her friends."
